

WE'LL GO TO THE ENDS OF THE EARTH to find an answer for you.
But more often than not we just have to go to the end of the hallway.

When there's a question about your health, timing is critical. You need answers. Not the runaround. No one understands that better than Lahey.

At Lahey, we're set up differently than other hospitals. We have over 500 physicians who specialize in oncology, orthopaedic surgery, cardiac surgery and much more – 39 specialties in all. And each one is trained in the lost art of communication. That's right, they actually talk to each other. And because they all work under one roof, they do it quickly and more efficiently. The ultimate goal being a quicker, more accurate diagnosis.

The most amazing thing about Lahey: anyone can come to our hospital. You don't have to be someone special. You just have to want to be treated right.
